01 / TUNAL GROUP × KILLIAN DEVARIEUX

Tunal Group, from Marseille to international rings

The collaboration, through the fighter's eyes.

Killian discovered Tunal Group through social media and Ilyes, who helped put them in touch. A concrete opportunity convinced him: the chance to fight soon, with a team that understood his expectations. Two weeks later, he made his professional debut on the other side of the world. Since then, he highlights bouts in different countries and greater visibility among communities connected by boxing. His first professional bout and his first television appearance in Türkiye remain two strong memories. He values seeing his own progress alongside the promotion's development. With Tunal Group, he wants to go as far as possible. To anyone considering the team, he points to what he has accomplished with its support.

02 / THE STORY

Marseille and Guadeloupe, the roots of his identity

Born and raised in Marseille's northern districts, Killian remains deeply attached to his Guadeloupean roots. Limited resources and the judgements attached to his neighbourhood shaped his youth. Faced with a choice between the military and boxing, he chose the ring without regret.

Inspired by Muhammad Ali and Mike Tyson, he started at seventeen and also learned independently. He discovered a way both to compete and to pass on his knowledge. To him, boxing is an art that each fighter should express freely. With Tunal Group, he wants to develop his ambitions and represent Guadeloupe, Marseille and its northern districts.

03 / THE JOURNEY

From coaching to the ring with Tunal Group

Killian reports 26 amateur bouts and a regional title. After four years as a coach, he returned with Kayser. A few months later, Tunal Group offered him his first professional bout abroad. He dates his debut to November 2025.

An orthodox super featherweight standing 1.68 m tall, he works with Kayser at Duble choc Power and Tunal Group. Despite financial constraints and injuries, he remains determined to progress.
